

JR E-Learning Courses

We offer a comprehensive suite of e-Learning courses suited to the needs of your business and employees. Our courses include Health and Safety, Health and Social Care and Business Development. Each course is accredited to recognised bodies, and we provide full certification on completion. Our e-Learning courses are a proven, cost-effective way to ensure the correct training in your workplace. These tests also help employers to demonstrate that they have fulfilled their legal duties to ensure their personnel have been adequately trained.

Hello and welcome! I'm John Ross, the founder of JR PAT Testing and JR E-Learning. At JR E-Learning, we are dedicated to sharing our knowledge and expertise with individuals and teams across various industries, from healthcare and education to aviation and trade services.

We offer an extensive range of training courses designed to provide comprehensive and practical learning experiences. Our courses cover a wide range of topics, including PAT testing, electrical safety, fire safety, first aid, and health and safety, among others. We pride ourselves on delivering training that is tailored to meet the unique needs of each industry.

Our courses are designed to take you from basic to advanced levels, ensuring that you gain in-depth knowledge and hands-on experience that will help you become a confident and skilled professional. We believe in providing not just theoretical knowledge but also practical guidance on wider objectives, pricing, average testing numbers, and marketing.

At JR E-Learning, we are passionate about helping individuals and teams develop their skills and achieve their goals. We believe that learning is a continuous process, which is why we offer ongoing mentoring and support to all our clients. Our support covers technical issues, business development, and more, ensuring that you receive the guidance you need to succeed.

So whether you're looking to upgrade your skills, expand your knowledge, or embark on a new career path, JR E-Learning is here to help you achieve your goals.

The training consists of:

- * A day of interactive, practical and theory covering all aspects of electrical appliance testing that comprehensively fulfils the requirements of elementary to experienced PAT engineers.
- * The training will apply a properly balanced approach to the 4th and 5th editions of the IET Code of Practice.
- * The training content will also help individuals with guidance and focus on helping you achieve your wider objectives, whether you want to run your own business, be part of another or be employed as a PAT Tester.
- * The training will have a commercial perspective to it, advising you individually about pricing, average testing numbers and marketing yourself.
- * For those wanting to work for a PAT company, we will help guide you with a realistic and practical perspective through our own experiences.

The biggest difference between the training we deliver, compared to other providers, is that the day is only the beginning of your journey. We will be here for you whenever you are needing help, support for any technical issues, advice on growing your business and whatever else you feel you will benefit from. The mentoring is the constant, whenever you want to talk to us.

John and his team will be delighted to help you develop your skills, from PAT to Sales and Marketing and Business Finances

For a one off £180 plus VAT you will receive a lifetime's support and mentoring whenever you want.
